

HARRIS FOUNDATION

Aid-to-Education
Gift Matching Program

Purpose

Gift matching is one of several aid-to-education programs sponsored by Harris. It was established to broaden financial support of educational institutions and particularly to encourage employees to contribute to the colleges and universities in which they or their families have an interest, and which they feel are worthy of support.

Contributions

Gifts of $10 or more made by employees to eligible institutions will be matched by contributions from the Harris Foundation to the same institutions, up to a total maximum amount of $10,000 per individual, per fiscal year of the Foundation (July 1 to June 30). Contributions of securities of known value qualify for gift matching. Gifts must be for educational purposes only (excluded are athletics, radio/TV stations, building funds, tuition, and scholarships, etc.).

Employee Eligibility

All regular full-time employees of Harris Corporation and its business segments* are eligible. Donors need not be alumni of the institutions to which they contribute.

Eligible Institutions

U.S., Canadian, and international higher education institutions that grant degrees and two-year colleges whose credits are transferable to four-year degree-granting institutions are eligible for gift matching. All such institutions must be eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions.

(The Foundation necessarily reserves the right to modify or terminate the program.)

*Harris business segments include: Broadcast Communications, Government Communications Systems, and Defense Communications and Electronics.
