

IBM Canada

IBM will match a person's contribution up to $7,500 per eligible institution (universities are included) per calendar year.

The maximum amount which IBM will match an individual donor's total personal contributions to eligible organizations made in a calendar year is $15,000. The contribution must be a personal gift of the individual and must be paid, not merely pledged. The application form must be received by IBM's Matching Grants Administrator no later than one year from the date of the employee or retiree gift. All applications received after December 31 will be processed for payment the following calendar year.